Tersely Told

Mr. and Mrs. John McVoy are the proud parents of a little son who arrived at their home on Sunday. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Officer Chas. Neel, who his brother officers have mentioned as a possible candidate for the legislature, declines to make the race upon the ground that he would be satisfied with nothing less than a United States senatorship.

Through the courtesy of the Baptist church at Milligan, Doctor Kegel, the evangelist, and his party, will occupy the Baptist church for a series of two weeks the meeting at Milligan commencing Friday, April 13.

This is really harvest week for every merchant in Pensacola and they should strengthen their advertising while people are looking around for new things to wear. This will keep home a lot of business which has been going out of town every year.

Chas. F. Steward, of the circulation department of The Journal, leaves this morning for an extended trip through West Florida and southern Alabama. He will first visit points along the Yellow River R. R. between Crestview and Florida.

Mobile Register: Mr. J. N. Hazlehurst, former city engineer, who has been confined to his room for several weeks with a severe attack of pneumonia, was removed to Providence Infirmary yesterday, it having been determined by his physicians that an operation would be necessary to secure his restoration to health.

In olden times, before the days of the Help Wanted ads, a sage wrote: "God sends us meat, but the devil sends us cooks." But the want ads have compelled his Satanic majesty to abandon the employment agency and of his business, both in the matter of cooks and in that of "finding work for idle hands to do."

Sir Knights, Attention!

CHARGED WITH BEING ARMY DESERTER

W. W. Woodward, Alias Einstein, a Printer, in Prison at Ft. Barrancas.

ALLEGED THAT HE HAD SERVED TIME FOR FORMER DESERTION AND RECEIVED DISHONORABLE DISCHARGE AND AGAIN ENLISTED UNDER ANOTHER NAME—DID NOT REPORT.

W. W. Woodward, alias Einstein, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Frank Sanders and R. L. Nielsen, charged with being a deserter from the Eighth Artillery Band. He was taken to Fort Barrancas and placed in the custody of government officials.

Woodward, or Einstein, is by trade a printer, and up to Saturday night of last week, it is stated that he was employed on the Pensacola News. He is not a member of the typographical union and has not been for some time. Officers of the Pensacola union state that his card was taken away from him for alleged violation of the laws of the union.

It is alleged that Woodward, or Einstein enlisted in the government service not many years ago. It is stated that he is a musician and that he enlisted as such, being detailed with a band attached to a post in the west. It is alleged that he deserted, was captured and tried, receiving a sentence of one year, which he served and was then handed a dishonorable discharge from the service of Uncle Sam.

Nothing more was heard of the man until recently, according to information imparted by the officers who arrested him.

Changed Name.
It is said that the idea of again becoming a member of some government band, entered the head of the man now in prison at Fort Barrancas. The name Woodward, according to all statements and allegations, especially the initials "W. W." did not appear suitable, so it is alleged, that the prisoner decided to try something new in a name and selected Einstein as the most appropriate.

Under the name of Einstein it is said that Woodward, or whatever his name may be, again enlisted as a musician in the service of Uncle Sam. The enlistment occurred in the west and the "new musician" was detailed to join the Eighth Artillery Band, which is stationed at Fort Barrancas. The man under arrest, charged with being such a deserter, has been alleged, never did join the band, but instead went to work at his trade on the News in this city.

Looking for Woodward.
In the Typographical Journal, the official organ of the Typographical union is an "ad" asking for information of "W. W. Woodward," signed Howard N. Ward, Poss Okla. Woodward's name has been stricken from the union roll.

Arrow Shields.

The other day I saw a little, modern book, in a green cover, on a table in a drawing room. I picked it up. It was about the early French in Canada, and my eye fell on a copy of a drawing by their leader, Champlain, or Champlain. The scene represented was an attack by the native allies of the French, the Algonquins, on a fort held by the Iroquois. The Algonquins advanced through showers of arrows under shields nearly as tall as themselves, like doors with rounded tops. Now, you may see exactly the same sort of shields in a picture of a lion hunt, inlaid in gold and silver, on the bronze blade of a dagger found by Dr. Schliemann in "the grave of Agamemnon." These monstrous Mycenaean shields cause much discussion among the learned. Why were they so huge? The Algonquins used the very same shields, hung from their necks, and the reason was the same—their battles were battles of archers, and nobody can parry a shower of arrows with a smaller shield. Shields grew small in Greece as bow and arrow went out and sword and spear came in.—London Illustrated News.

Many Heroic Rescues.

Naples, April 10.—Many tales are told of heroic rescues on the part of the soldiers sent to the assistance of the sufferers from the volcanic disaster at Ottajano and elsewhere. One man rode his horse through the ashes reaching up to its flanks at Ottajano, calling out, "Who wants help?" "Who wants help?" He was rewarded by hearing a woman's voice reply in weak tones and springing from his horse the soldier called a comrade to his assistance and floundered among the ashes until he arrived at the ruined walls of a house from which the voice seemed to come. As he made his way towards the building, the soldier shouted words of encouragement and climbing over a heap of ruins and braving a toppling wall, he entered the building and in the cellar found the bodies of three children. Near them was a woman barely alive, who by almost superhuman efforts lasting for hours, had succeeded in freeing herself from a mass of debris which had fallen upon her. The soldiers picked the woman up in his arms and carried her to a place of safety, where it was found that both her legs were broken and that she had been badly crushed about the body. It is believed she will live, although she endured further suffering for some time after her rescue, owing to the difficulty experienced in finding a surgeon to attend her.

A RATHER REMARKABLE EASTER WINDOW DISPLAY

From the remarks of a gentleman in one of the busy Palafox street stores yesterday there will soon be something doing in the divorce line. The remarks were overheard in Jack Hooton's pharmacy, where a pretty brown legged hen had just presented her meek looking and somewhat surprised spouse with fifteen downy little ducklings. The whole outfit is exhibited in one of Jack's big show windows, and is the most unique Easter display to be seen on Palafox street. A sign in the window explains the cause of the whole trouble.

THE INSTITUTE GRATIFYING SUCCESS

Y. M. C. A. Leaders Meet and Exchange Ideas Concerning the Association Work.

IMPORTANT, ELOQUENT AND INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESSES ARE DELIVERED BY PROMINENT OFFICIALS, AND HEARD BY APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCES—STEREOPHONIC EXHIBIT PROVES ENTERTAINING EVENT.

The meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association leaders in Pensacola, holding an Association Institute, has proven one of the most successful affairs of the kind held in this city in many years.

Several out of the city members of the organization assisted in the work which will undoubtedly prove of great benefit to the local association.

The opening session of the Institute was upon "The Scope and Object of Committees," and was attended by the members of the various Association Committees, Fred S. Goodman, International Secretary from New York led the discussion. He stated that the success of the Pensacola Association depended upon the faithful work of the committees, that the scope of Association Committees was as broad as the city and included duties to the entire municipality as well as to the association. The objects of the committee, Mr. Goodman stated, are several; first to get the work done, as the executive force of any association is too small to do all the necessary work; to guarantee breadth of views and full representation of all interests; to divide responsibility, and for the personal benefit of the individuals serving on committees.

After this session luncheon was served.

The second session was upon "The Relation of Association Members to the Lives of Men," an address by C. L. Gates, International Secretary, of Atlanta. Mr. Gates made a strong address showing that every city needs an association which has for its object the developing of manhood, and that the Young Men's Christian Association is such an association, and that each member of this organization has an obligation to make his life count every day in this direction.

The stereopticon lecture on "Associations. What is done in them?" was a comprehensive view of the Young Men's Christian Association as it is by the needs of various classes of men in every land. It was a remarkably strong and vivid argument for the value of the Y. M. C. A. and its adaptability. All sessions were well attended. The following was yesterday's program: 5:30 p. m.—For Directors and Trustees: "The Opportunities of a Director." W. Woods White, Chairman Georgia State Committee. 6:30 p. m.—Luncheon. 7:30 p. m.—For active members: "A Modern Bible Study Department and How to Conduct It." F. S. Goodman International Secretary. 8:15 p. m.—Open Discussion.

Eating by Law.

"While in Berlin one hot day," said a traveler, "I stepped into a combination beer garden and restaurant and ordered a glass of beer and some fruit. The waiter shook his head. 'You won't get fruit and beer together in Berlin, here,' he said. 'Why not?' said I. 'It is against the law,' the waiter replied. 'There is a law here in Germany that no one is to be served beer and fruit together. If a restaurateur breaks this law he loses his license. It is a good law,' the waiter added. 'It is based on good sound sense. Beer and fruit don't mix. They are bad for the stomach. Sometimes they cause death.' 'Since that time,' the tourist ended, 'I have never mixed beer and fruit. It is a strange idea, isn't it, to have food laws like that? Suppose congress should pass a law forbidding the eating at the same meal of ice cream and lobster or mince pie and plum pudding. What a howl would go up, eh?'—New York Press.

Sponge Fishing.

The Greeks are considered the principal sponge fishers, and it takes much experience, skill and hardihood to qualify a man for a first class place among sponge divers. Many of the most valuable specimens are found at a depth varying from ten to thirty-five fathoms. To aid in the descent the divers make use of a triangular stone with a hole in one corner, through which a rope is spliced. On reaching the deep sea gardens, where the rock ledges are clothed with marine growths, the diver, retaining a hold on his rope, dexterously breaks away the holdfast of the sponges and places them under his arm until a sufficient load has been gleaned, when a pull on the rope signals his companions above that he is ready to ascend, and he is then hauled to the surface, bearing his ocean treasures.

Kodol DYSPEPSIA CURE

Digests What You Eat

I have been a dyspeptic all my life, have tried all kinds of Dyspepsia remedies, but continued to get worse. Could eat but little and suffered greatly. I was reduced in weight and run down to nothing in strength. After using a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure I began to improve and am now fully restored in weight, health and strength. I am now able to do my own work and can eat whatever I like.

OLIVE

Special to The Journal.
Olive, Fla., April 10.—We are having some nice weather now and every one is beginning to use ice in place of coal.

Miss Maggie Owsley is anticipating a visit to Pensacola this evening.

Mr. Louis Boley made a business trip to Pensacola today.

The L. & N. crew, who have been here for a few days, will move to Pensacola in a day or two.

The Boley and Rutherford Lumber Company's saw mill is running now.

Our school is progressing nicely under the leadership of Miss Maggie Owsley.

We would like very much to have a ticket office at this place. It would seem as though the L. & N. Co. would furnish us with one.

Our postoffice is soon to have a mail carrier from the postoffice to the L. & N. R. R., as bids are out now for a carrier.

Rev. E. C. Clayton filled his appointment at the Olive Baptist church Saturday night last and also Sunday and Sunday night. He preached to a very large and interested congregation and was called for pastor for the following year. His appointments are Saturday night before every second Sunday and also the Sunday following. Every one is cordially invited to attend the services.

Rev. Kierce of the West Hill church attended preaching here Sunday last.

Miss Lizzie Merritt and Miss Harriett Beal left Sunday evening for Goulding, where they will spend some time with friends.

Mrs. R. R. Smith and children were the guests of Mrs. D. M. Merritt Sunday last.

Misses Floy and Leo Williams were the guests of Miss Annie Wilson Sunday last.

Miss Lizzie Merritt was the guest of Miss Anna Creighton Sunday evening last.

Mrs. Alice Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Merritt and little daughter, Eunice, and Miss Mozell Harper, were the guests of Mrs. Helen Jones Sunday last.

Miss Harriett Beal was the guest of her cousin, Miss Bessie Johnson, Sunday night last.

We are having some beautiful moon light nights.
